[illegible]

Anno M.D.L.

¶ To the moſte high and mightie Prince, Edward the .vi. by the grace of God, kyng of Englande, Fraunce, and Irelande, defendour of the faithe, and of the Churche of Englande and alſo of Irelande in earth the ſupreme [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] reigne.

BETTER, nor a more bleſſed thyng cannot happen to any chriſtian realme then a Gouernoure indued with the knowlege of Goddes moſte ſacred and holy worde, whiche ſeketh to rule all thynges accordyngly, and to ordre nothyng, whiche ought to bee ordered by theſame worde, but onely thereby, as that whiche is the very touchſtone, to try holines from ypocriſy, and Papiſticall ſtatutes, from ſincere and pure doctrine. And for that, the almightie Lorde hath ſent your moſte excellent Maieſtie to bee our onely hedde and ſupreme gouernour, indued with no leſſe feruentnes and zeale of his glory, then was the Godly kyng Ioſias, who reſtored the Lawe of the Lorde to the Iſraelites, and manfully by his moſte Godly procedynges (as manifeſtly in the holy ſcripture appereth) proſecuted and defended theſame, deſtroying their Images, and pullyng doune their Hill Altars: And alſo, for that moſte euidently youre highnes Godly procedynges, are agreable with theſame Ioſias, as in reſtoryng vnto vs, not onely Gods moſte holy worde, but alſo true and ſincere Preachers and teachers thereof, publiſhyng and declaryng alſo by many and ſundry treatiſes (as your highnes moſte Godly Homelies and others) whiche are put furthe, by the protection and defence of your Maieſties name, for the explanyng and true declaratiō, of theſame his moſte holy worde, and in makyng a Godly and iuſt reformacion, in the notable abuſes of Chriſtes religion: callyng theſe well to remembraunce, where a while, I as one bothe afeard and amaſed, ponderyng with my ſelf what I was, one of your highnes moſte poore ſubiectes, deſtitute bothe of learnyng and eloquēce, yea, and ſuche a one as in maner neuer taſted the ſwetenes of learned Letters, but altogether brought vp in your highnes College at Wyndſore, in the ſtudy of Muſike and playing on Organs, wherin I conſumed vainly the greateſt part of my life, and weyyng alſo, how timerous and fearfull the greate learned men are, to dedicate their worthy workes vnto your moſte excellent Maieſtie, as by their ſmartfull Epiſtles fixed before theſame maie appere, I was not a litle aſhamed and ſore abaſhed, to enterpriſe the dedicacion hereof vnto your highnes.

a.ij.　　But

But when I had (as beforeſaied) well weighed the feruencie and zeale of your learned Maieſtie, with the mercifull and moſte gentle entertaynement of thoſe whiche in Godly thynges haue doen their beſt, rather to occaſion other beyng of greater perfeccion in learnyng, to make their ſimple thynges more perfect, then for vaineglory: And alſo, conſideryng how muche I emong all others, had moſte cauſe to beſeche your highnes tuicion and defence, ſpecially for that this worke folowyng, hath had ſo many impedimentes, hynderaunces and lettes, the whiche for twoo cauſes eſpeciall, I thynke mete to bee ſignified and declared to your highnes: As firſt, thereby youre Maieſtie maie perceiue, howe that any thynge that auaunceth the glory of God, God by hys wonderfull prouidence bryngeth it to paſſe, though man with all that is in hym, ſtudy the hinderaunce therof: Secondarely, that foraſmuche as this worke hath eſcaped ſo many ieoperdies, and nowe finiſhed and brought to light, youre highnes of your aboundaunt clemencie maie the rather, not onely at the humble ſupplicacion of your obedient and poore ſubiect the writer hereof, graunt your Maieſties libertie and licence, that it maie frely bee publiſhed, and had emong all your graces faithfull ſubiectes throughout all your realmes and Dominions, but alſo, to receiue the ſaied worke dedicated to your highnes (as many other before hath been) to bee vnder your Regall power and wyng of protection, preſerued and defended againſt all enuious mouthes and ignoraunt writers (I meane of that ſort, whiche are wilfull ignoraunt, that not onely knowe litle themſelfes, but greatly hate ſuche as haue knowlege, and thoſe that deſire or ſeke for knowlege:) But to procede aſwell to the occaſions, that firſt moued me to take this worke in hande, as alſo to the hinderaunces of the ſame: It maie pleaſe your moſte excellent Maieſtie to vnderſtande, that hearyng a frende of myne beyng a profounde clerke, yeld and geue greate praiſes to hym, that firſt in the Latin toungue had ſet furthe that worthy worke, called Concordantie Biblie, that is, the Concordaunce of the Bible, by the meane whereof (ſaied he) the memory of the Latin reader was in ſuche wiſe holpen, that whatſoeuer ſentence or worde were written in the moſte ſacred Bible, any man hauyng but competent learnyng, might eaſely turne to the originall place thereof, and that without ſtudy, although he remembred but one worde of the ſentence, whiche he deſired to finde. And for a manifeſt profe, he turned to this ſentence in the Goſpell of Mathew, Omnis arbor que non facit fructum bonum, excidetur & in ignem mittetur. whiche clauſe he founde out by the helpe of his Concordaunce, fiue ſondery tymes, that is to wete by euery of the fiue wordes, Omnis, arbor, fructum, bonum, ignis, whiche thyng when I had ſeen put in vre before myne eye, and beyng deſirous for the profite of many, to haue the ſame in Engliſhe, I began to practiſe diuerſe & ſondery waies, blottyng a greate nombre of quieres of paper, before I could bryng it into ordre. Howbeit, truſtyng that the begynnyng was the hardeſt, beſt, as after it proued, I continued my labours, and wrote the whole worke in ſentences, ſo that not onely the reader, might ſynde any worde that he deſired, but alſo the whole ſentence that it was written in, whiche made a greate and a houge volume: And as I had almoſte finiſhed theſame, my chaunce emong others was, at Wyndſore to bee taken in the lawbreache and troubleſome net of a lawe, called the Statute of .vi. articles, where, by the meanes of good woorkers for my diſpatche, I was quickly condempned and Iudged to death, for the copiyng out of a worke, made by the greate Clerke Maiſter Ihon Caluin, written againſt theſame ſixe articles, and this my concordaunce was not one of the leaſt matters, that then thei alleged, to aggrauate the cauſe of my trouble: but theſame tyme was my greate worke, emong other, taken from me and vtterly loſt, whiche (beſide my labor) I had ſpent no ſmall tyme in. But the liuyng lorde, who brought Daniell out of the lake of Lions, and ſent the Prophete Abacuck to beare hym foode, moued the harte of the noble and famous Prince, your highnes father, to graunte me his moſte gracious pardon, whiche I enioyed and was ſet at libertie. After, hauyng ſuche an earneſt deſire, for the furtheraunce of this good woorke, that I was neuer in quiet, till theſame were doen, I began again therewith and writ out theſame, and when I had doen: It fortuned me to ſhewe it to my frend, who when he ſawe it, not onely promiſed to aide me in the preferment thereof to the kynges Maieſtie your highnes father, but alſo, he would ſo moue it to the Quenes grace, your highnes fathers moſte vertuous and Godly laſt wife, that he doubted not, but that her grace would ſo prefer it to the kyng, that his Maieſtie would commaunde it to be publiſhed: but in any wiſe theſame my frende, would haue a copie thereof, whiche beyng ſuche a one, as I might not ſaie nay, I eftſones writ and deliuered hym. Then ſo happened it, that before the quenes grace could haue tyme conuenient, to moue the kynges highnes, God tooke hym to his mercie, and anone I loſt her grace alſo, God mercifully deliueryng her by death, frō the troubles and miſeries of this worlde: And then was I vtterly in deſpaire, that euer it ſhould ſtpward. But when I ſawe that GOD had ſet your moſte excellent Maieſtie, in this your Regall ſeate, and ſawe by the beginnyng of your proceadynges (as before I haue recited) that youre trauailes tended wholy to the maintenaunce of Goddes moſte high honor, I was anone as a man newly reuiued in ſpirit, and was then driuen in my ſelf, to acknowlege that all that euer had chaunced before (eſpecially to this preſent woorke) chaunced for the beſt, and that like as your highnes, was by Goddes prouidence ſent vnto England, for the comfort of vs all, ſo was it his pleaſure, that ſuche thynges as appertein to any publique benefite, ſhould ſafely paſſe vnder your highnes protection. And thus beyng encouraged, I reſorted to the Imprinter hereof, with whom I counſailed for the Imprintyng of theſame, who ſeeyng the volume lume ſo houge and greate, ſaied plainly that the charges of the Imprintyng thereof, would not onely bee importunate, but the bokes when thei ſhould bee finiſhed, would beare ſo exceſſiue price, as fewe of your highnes louyng ſubiectes, ſhould bee able to attain vnto theim: wherfore by his aduiſe, I yet once again a newe wrote out the ſame, in ſuche ſorte as the worke now appereth, and by the prouidence of GOD is now finiſhed.

AND here, for that ſome peraduenture will marueill not a litle, why that I haue ioyned to euery Engliſhe vocable the latin vocable, I thinke it my part to declare the cauſes, whiche are two: the one, that either of the toungues addeth to other a certain light, and peraduenture alſo, an occaſion of learnyng the Engliſhe of ſome rare and ſtraunge Latin wordes, vſed onely in the Bible: the other is, that no man hereafter might in anywiſe cauile or ſuſpect that I had altred or added, any worde in the moſte holy Bible, whiche I haue not, nor could not if I would (for wāt of learnyng) vſe any other Latin wordes, then thoſe whiche I found in the vulgare latin bible, nor yet none other Engliſhe vocables, then thoſe whiche I found in the Engliſhe Bible, of the moſte allowed tranſlacion: ſo that now this boke muſte nedes bee clere from all erronious doctrine, yea, or ſuſpicion thereof, whiche hath cauſed me the more boldlier, to dedicate it to your moſte excellent Maieſtie, moſte humbly beſechyng your highnes, like as I offer vnto you theſe my labors, of a moſte humble and louyng hart, ſo to accept theſame with ſuche your fauourable and gracious countenaunce, as bothe others maie be moued with the more gladnes to embrace it, and I occaſioned (if I maie bee able) to beſtowe farther trauaill in ſome other thyng, to the publike vtilitie of my countrey: And in the lieu and place of lacke of learned perfection, whiche is to be had in ſo neceſſary a worke, to accepte my good will, whiche moſte hartely praieth and deſireth the learned, to take occaſion hereby, to make it of more perfeccion. And as I am of duetie moſte bounden, ſo ſhall I neuer ceaſſe my life enduryng to praie vnto almightie GOD, that it maie pleaſe hym, ſo to confirme and increaſe the manyfolde giftes of grace, that he hath planted in your highnes, as the ſame maie long yeres moſte victoriouſly continue your reigne ouer this Realme of Englande, moſte Godly and thereto proſperouſly begon.

AMEN.

TO THE READER.

I haue ryght louynge Reader for thy eaſe and helpe gathered thys worke together in ſuch ſorte as by the ſame manifeſtly appeareth, wherein certaine thynges are to bee noted. As firſt the ordre thereof whiche is thys: Euery ſentence wrytten herein is not ſpecially written for the ſentence ſake, but for ſome woorde conteyned in the ſame. As for exemple, if thou deſire to finde this woorde Plough, turne to the letter of P. before L. and there ſhalt thou fynde it wrytten thus. Ioel.3.b. Make. ſwordes of your ploughe ſhares. that is to ſaie, Ioel the.iii.chapiter and letter.b.is written thoſe wordes with ſome mo in theſame ſentence, and that is ſignified by the pointe whiche foloweth after the word Make. And in like maner as often as you finde a pointe in the myddeſt of a ſentence after any woord, it ſignifieth that ye ſhal finde mo woordes in the ſcripture in theſame ſentẽce, then is expreſſed in this boke of Concordance. And this ordre haue I obſerued onely for the abridgemẽt and ſhortnyng of this woorke, whiche if euery ſentence herein had been written at length would haue made a very greate and houge volume. Theſame reaſon hath moued me to ſet out the Chapiters in figures, rather then in plaine letters, onely for the ſhortenes and compendiouſnes therof. Alſo here is to be noted that diuerſe times ye ſhall finde alleged theſe woordes. In. Ma.P. whiche ſignifieth, in Manaſſes praier, whiche ye ſhal finde directly before the firſt boke of Machabees. Alſo often times herein I vſe this woorde. There, which meaneth that the woorde that is expreſſly named in that place, is to be founde in the booke and chapiter that is nexte before alleged.

AND if it fortune by errour either of the writer or Imprinter that a Chapiter be amiſſe alleged. as xxxi.for.xxxii.and ſuche like, yet if ye be deſirous to finde that ye ſeke for, if ye finde it not in the firſt woorde of the ſentence that ye looke for, by reaſon of ſuche errour, then turne to another woorde of theſame ſentence, and ye ſhalbe aſſured to haue it.

AND in like maner where ye are alwaies aſſigned to the letter a.b.c.d.e.f.g. if ye finde it not right vpon the letter, take ſome paynes to ſearche a litle before or a litle after, and ſo ſhal ye attaine that ye deſire.

MOREOVER here is to be noted that where in the Bible ſome one Latin vocable is in ſondry places, ſondry wiſe Engliſſhed, as for example, this vocable Interficere, is in diuerſe places of the Bible diuerſly Engliſſhed as ſometime, to kyll, to deſtroie, to murdre, to ſlea, to put to death: therfore I haue in euery place vſed the Engliſſh as it ſtandeth in the

the Bible, and then do (as nede requireth) referre the Reader to suche other places where theſame worde is otherwiſe Engliſhed or hath another ſignification, as by a greate nombre of wordes in this booke moſt playnly wyll appeare. And foraſmuche as a greate nombre bothe of good wyttes and apte myndes are not acquaynted wyth the figures, and yet are deſirous to haue the vſe and commoditie of thys worke, I haue by a Table here folowynge ſo deſcribed theſame Figures and nombres by playne letters, that when ye haue founde the worde that ye ſought for, ye maie conferre the nombre of Figures there, wyth the plaine nombres expreſſed in this Table, and then ye ſhall wyth lytle ſtudy and leſſe payne attayne to the knowlege therof.

FINIS.

A Table expreſſyng by plaine letters the nombre of the figures conteyned in thys woorke.
